KDLX to Begin Airing Sunday

Preparing For Airing

At 7 p. m. Sunday, the 560 spot on the radio dials of MSC will be filled with the much improved sounds of KDLX radio.

KDLX staff members have regretted being off the air for some time, but break-down in the old and somewhat makeshift equipment made broadcasting impossible. Much new equipment has been installed to boost the reception of KDLX this semester.

With the dedicated care of the chief student technicians, Larry Lewellen and his assistant, Mike Douthet, the reception of the KDLX signal should be consistently good.

The main control room of KDLX has received a "face-lifting" since it was last used for broadcasting. Students have been working hard in becoming proficient in handling the new equipment. They are excitedly learning to manipulate the switches, knobs, and VU meter on the shining new control board.

Other new equipment includes two precision-made turntables, two tape recorders, a tape deck, consoles, and microphones. With this new equipment, KDLX has definitely been lifted from the experimental period when the equipment was more or less kept together and kept operable by dedicated students, bailing wire, scotch tape, and a prayer.

The production room has inherited the old equipment, which is still "tenderly" repaired and used by broadcast students who well remember when... These students staunchly insist that the early equipment should some day repose in a glass case as the beloved memorabilia of KDLX. The production room is constantly used in radio and television classes for the production of tapes and recorded programs.

Improved programming and an extended variety of programs have been included in this semester's (Continued on Page 5)

Jaycees Provide 'Miss Maryville' Applications

The first step in the long road to Miss America recognition can be taken by MSC coeds when they pick up and complete entry blanks by 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Applications are available from Gerry Barnhart at 110 W. Third Street for the Miss Maryville contest sponsored by the Maryville Junior Chamber of Commerce. To be eligible for the contest, a coed should be single and between the ages of 18 and 21.

Preliminary judging of the applicants will be taking place between Mar. 20 and Mar. 29 in a series of informal social events and meetings with the contest judges. Ten finalists among the entries are to be presented at the culmination of the preliminary judging on Mar. 29 in the Charles Johnson Theater.

On Apr. 19 the 10 finalists will stage the annual Miss Maryville Pageant in the Johnson Theater. The pageant will be similar to the nationally televised presentation with competition in formal wear, bathing suit, and talent categories.

College Men Assist In Unearthing Bones

Have you ever found a skeleton in your closet or in your basement?

Mr. Tom Miller of the Bolckow vicinity recently had such an experience while enlarging the basement of his home.

Upon notification from Mr. Miller, Dr. James L. Lowe, Mr. Robert Nagle, and Mr. Lee Haggeman began an excavation that took four Saturday morning sessions for completion. The result was the uncovering of two human skulls and several long bones. The artifacts are thought to be of Indian descent because of the fact that no buttons or items generally connected with a civilized society were found with the remains.

Two flint flakes, believed to have been scrapers, were also found close to the bones which indicate that they may be Indian. Without an analysis of carbon content, only an approximate age can be placed on the bones. Dr. Lowe said they are thought to date before 1500 because of the manner in which they were buried. Later Indians did not use this type of burial.

The skulls will be on display in the Rose Room this week. Sketches of the skulls, drawn by Mr. Haggeman, will also make up the display.

Students who aided in the search were Nell Cowden, Susan Hansen, Tim Kelley, Arthur Van Roekel, Irvin Volk, Steve Bitterman, and Jim Smith. Mr. Myles Grabau and Mr. David Smith, instructors in the department of biology, observed.

English Authority Scheduled to Talk On Gymnastics

Miss Ruth Morison, physical education expert from Liverpool, England, will be guest lecturer on campus Mar. 25-28.

Credited with starting educational gymnastics in England, Miss Morison's visit is sponsored by the National Association for Physical Education of College Women. She will conduct a workshop in education gymnastics in two major classes at Martindale Gym.

Miss Morison will be guest of honor at a dinner Mar. 25 in the Faculty Club.

Miss Bonnie Magill and Mr. Kathryn Riddle of the women's physical education staff will accompany Miss Morison to the national convention of the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Mar. 29-Apr. 2 in St. Louis.

Lettermen to Give Concert As Union Board Presentation

"The Lettermen's sound and performance will send them through the roof of show business," says actor George Burns about the group who will be at MSC Mar. 22 under the sponsorship of the Union Board.

Tony Butala, Jim Pike, and Bob Engemann will combine their talents to present a concert at 8 p. m. Friday night in Lamkin Gymnasium.

Students will be admitted with an I. D. for $1; independents, $1.50, and others, $2. Tickets on the floor are reserved.

Tony originally sang with Connie Stevens. Later Bob and Jim joined him and the new group named themselves the Lettermen. Now they are one of the nation's top recording groups.

The group will sing such popular numbers as "The Way You Look Tonight," "When I Fall in Love," and "Goin' Out of My Head," along with "Can't Take My Eyes Off of You." This well-known trio has appeared in night clubs, on television shows, and on numerous college campuses.

"The Lettermen come on strong — with a big sound and good rapport" — Daily Variety.

Missouri AAUP Elects Dr. Lowe As New Leader

Dr. James Lowe, chairman of the sociology department of the Northwest Missouri State College Division of Social Sciences is the newly elected president of the Missouri Conference of the American Association of University Professors.

Dr. Lowe, a member of AAUP since 1959, was elected Saturday at a statewide AAUP meeting held on the campus of Lincoln University in Jefferson City. He has served as secretary-treasurer during the past year.

Mr. Robert Killingsworth of the MSC faculty has been elected the local chapter's representative to the national AAUP convention Apr. 26 and 27 in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Lowe will represent the state AAUP at the Washington, D. C., conference.

Seniors Honored in MSC's 'Who's Who'

Ed Lambright

Marjorie Hitchcock

Linda Hoffmeyer

Tom Frank

Sondra Lazear

Eight MSC seniors were selected recently for MSC's "Who's Who" on the basis of their work, service, and leadership on campus.

Candidates were evaluated on a point scale for various offices and activities on campus, and honorees were chosen on a high point basis. Honorees for 1968 are Tom Frank, Marjorie Hitchcock, Linda Sue Hoffmeyer, Ed Lambright, Sondra Simons Lazear, Russell McCampbell, Mary Potter, and Norma Wilson Tibbetts.

Student body president Tom Frank, Union Star, is also president of Blue Key and vice president of Phi Sigma Epsilon. He is chairman of a Union Board committee and was a Homecoming committee chair-

Mary Potter, Sidney, Iowa, is president of Associated Women Students, treasurer of Alpha Mu Gamma, and sports editor of the Tower. Miss Potter is a member of Sigma Sigma and was a 1968 Tower Queen attendant. She has also served as a Religious Emphasis Week committee chairman.

Norma Wilson Tibbetts, Maryville, is president of Sigma Sigma Sigma and treasurer of Embers. She is also a member of Dialogue and is president of both Kappa Delta Pi and Pi Gamma Mu.

Delegates Attend National Meet Of Kappa Delta Pi

Five members of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education organization, represented the local chapter at the Biennial Convocation held from Mar. 6 to 9 in Denver, Colo.

Mike Miller, delegate; Mary Asbell, alternate, and Wendee Beam, Linda Britt, and Nancy Pickett were among more than 600 representatives who attended the 26th national convention. The assembly reviewed the constitution, budget, and rituals of the organization; and representatives met in small groups to exchange ideas for the local chapters. The group also toured the Garden of the Gods, the Air Force Academy, and the Flying "W" Ranch, Colorado Springs.

The next convocation is scheduled to be in 1970 in Boston, Mass. Dr. John Harr is the local chapter sponsor.

Plans Being Made For Campus JSA

Since there is no Jewish house of worship within a 44-mile radius of Maryville, there appears to be a need at MSC for the formation of a Jewish religious organization.

Students who would like to help or are interested in the formation of a Jewish Student Association, please contact Perry Burgner, at Room 101 Cooper Hall or drop a note in the campus mail, Box 219 Cooper Hall.

Personnel Invited To See 2 German Films

Students and faculty are invited to attend the showing of two films from the German Consulate in Kansas City at 7 p. m. Monday in the Wells Library Theater.

"Orff's School Music," in German with English subtitles, and "A Day in Berlin," a 40-minute color film in English, are the featured films according to Mr. Charles E. Slatery, German instructor.

Jack Briggs Selected For St. Louis Opera Position

Jack Briggs, MSC junior music major, has been selected as one of 35 finalists from a field of 300 competitors to perform with the St. Louis Municipal Opera during its 1968 summer series.

If the baritone accepts an assignment with the company, he will participate in numerous musical productions, such as "The Sound of Music," which are to be presented at the large outdoor theater in Forest Park.

Jack Briggs, baritone

Briggs attended MSC before joining the United States Army in 1963. After his basic training, he enrolled at the Naval Academy of Music, Washington, D. C., which has since moved to Norfolk, Va. From the Naval Academy he went to the 5th United States Army Band, Ft. Sheridan, located on the outskirts of Chicago. In the band he played the double French horn and the trumpet, and was a featured vocalist on one of the band's LP albums, "The Sound of Music."

While in the Army band, he performed under the baton of such distinguished names in the field of music as Arthur Fiedler, director of the Boston Pops Symphony, and Vaclav Nelhebel, international composer and conductor. During his three-year tour of duty, he traveled more than 90,000 miles, performing in a 13-state area.

In 1963, out of 1,200 competitors, Briggs was chosen as Iowa State Talent Champion of the Iowa State Fair, an award which won him $600.

Since returning to school last fall, Briggs has been studying voice with Mr. Gilbert Whitney, MSC music instructor, and has sung in several college musicals. He appeared as King Melchior in "Amahl and the Night Visitors," and in the 1962 production of "The Mikado," he portrayed Poo Bah, the chief executioner. He recently served as vocalist during the Best Dressed Coed Contest.

'Dark of Moon' Star Gets Role

Cheryl Reineke, star of MSC's folk drama "Dark of the Moon" last fall, has been awarded the title role in "Agnes Bernauer" at the University of Missouri, Kansas City.

Miss Reineke, who is doing graduate work at the university, told of her excitement over the assignment in a recent letter to Dr. Ralph E. Fulsom, chairman of the department of speech, drama, and speech correction. The UMKC production, an American premiere of the opera by Carl Orff, is a co-effort of the Playhouse and Conservatory of Music of the university. It will be presented Mar. 21-30.

Guest director will be Fritz Kracht, formerly of Munich Bavarian State Theatre.

Miss Reineke in writing of her audition and the "startling" result of getting the title role follows:

"I went to the tryouts for the experience. Secretly I was hoping for a walk-on part. But the parts (for women) available are in the chorus, crowds, and the servant girl (who does not have any lines) and Agnes Bernauer, which is indeed a 'star' role. I know you're not going to believe this — but I have been cast as Agnes Bernauer. I'm so excited about it that I can hardly sleep or eat. I know you're probably wondering about the singing — well, she has one ballad and it's supposed to be talk-sung. The choruses and solo voices have most of the singing to do.

"At the tryouts, Mr. Kracht stopped me and yelled at the top of his lungs the way he wanted me to do it. He then said, 'All right, now take it from the top, and give me something!' He told the stage-manager (who later told me) that he wanted me for the role and that was that! He concluded with the statement, 'I know she can take it.'

"I guess I'll see whether he was right or not. I'm thankful for the discipline you've instilled in me, and for the many times that you've yelled at me. This should make you smile."

Panel to Lead Academic Consideration of Theology

Dr. John M. Swomley

Speakers have been secured for Religious Emphasis Week, Mar. 24 to Mar. 28, which is scheduled to stimulate the interest of college students in an academic consideration of theology.

The new morality and position of theology to the contemporary student is the theme of the week's events. Activities and speakers scheduled for every night of the week include a "happening" on the last night, Sunday, Mar. 28.

Rabbi Myron Meyer

The principal speakers represent three different religious fields and include a doctor of theology, a rabbi, and "the individual of the church in the small town and rural America."

Keynote speaker of Religious Emphasis week will be Dr. John M. Swomley Jr., who will start the opening night "kick-off" with a speech in the Blue Room. Dr. Swomley is on the faculty of St. Paul School of Theology, Kansas City, and is a Methodist minister. He received a PhD in political science at the University of Colorado and has written articles for prominent magazines such as Christian Century, Progress, and Nation.

A second speaker, Rabbi Myron Meyer, will speak on Wednesday and Thursday only. He represents the Jewish churches in St. Joseph.

English Honor Society Elects New Officers

The English Honor Society held its first official meeting last Monday night at the home of Dr. Frank W. Grube.

New officers elected were Linda Britt, president; Marilyn Rasmussen, vice president, and Linda Martin, secretary. For the remainder of the year, the honor society will continue to meet at Dr. Grube's home at 7 p. m. on the first Monday of every month.

Other charter members in attendance were Mary Asbell, Connie Davis, Vicki Hanna, Cheryl Horton, Judith Hunt, Anne Morgan, Nancy Pickett, Jo Ann Voyce, and Gail Wiederholt.

Esther Grosbeck Heads Auxiliary to Fraternity

The Kallay Filleeans, the newly instituted women's auxiliary to Alpha Kappa Lambda is led by Esther Grosbeck, president, Miss Lois Loveland, adviser, and the AKL house-mother, Mrs. Clara Peterson.

At present, there are 18 members from many different organizations on campus. The group assists members of AKL with functions such as the retarded children's parties.

The Kallay Filleeans will hold a formal rush party next Thursday night.

Mrs. Anita Guyton

John M. Swomley Jr., who will start the opening night "kick-off" with a speech in the Blue Room. Dr. Swomley is on the faculty of St. Paul School of Theology, Kansas City, and is a Methodist minister. He received a PhD in political science at the University of Colorado and has written articles for prominent magazines such as Christian Century, Progress, and Nation.

A second speaker, Rabbi Myron Meyer, will speak on Wednesday and Thursday only. He represents the Jewish churches in St. Joseph.

Mrs. Anita Guyton is from New Cambria and represents the Church in the small town and rural America. She also is now serving as secretary of the Missionary Society.

Further plans are still being made for Religious Emphasis Week. A variety of activities now being discussed by the student committee will be announced later. Dr. Kenneth Minter, biology instructor, is faculty chairman of the event.

Dr. Howard Decker Presents Lecture

Dr. Howard Decker, executive secretary of the American Industrial Arts Association, appeared Wednesday as the second speaker of the lecture series sponsored by the MSC department of industrial arts.

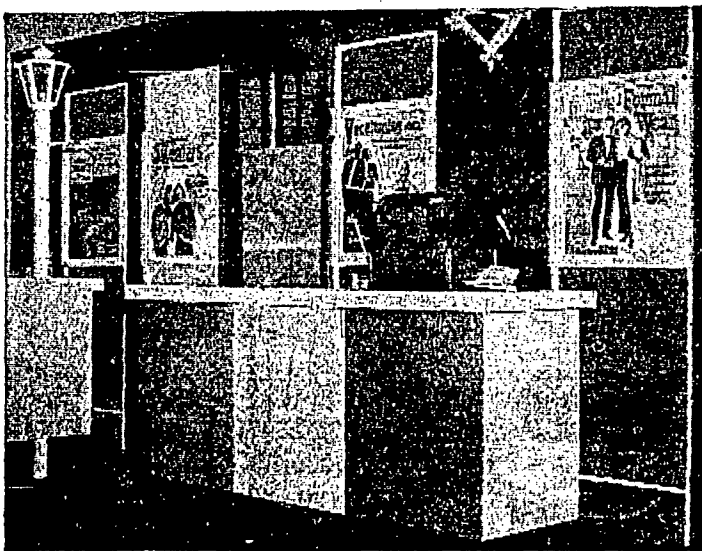

The theme of Dr. Decker's presentation was "Status and Trends of Industrial Arts in the United States Today." The lecture was open to the public.

Prior to his appointment to this present position, Dr. Decker was professor and head of the industrial arts department of Appalachian State Teachers College. He has also held positions with the West Virginia Institute of Technology and has been an industrial education consultant with the U. S. Department of State.

Dr. Decker has served as chairman of the research committee, AIAA, and chairman of the Southern Committee on Administration. He also was president of the West Virginia Institute of Technology chapter of the AAUP.

Service Office Helps Place Seniors, Alumni

Mrs. Esther Sellers, Field Service Office assistant in charge of placement, has announced new positions of a number of MSC graduates and seniors in both teaching and business posts.

Placements in the physical education field for women are Joyce Edwards, St. Joseph; Christie Beal, Pueblo, Colo.; Linda Sharp, Lake City, Iowa; Sandra Eckhoff, Platte City; Sandra Simons Lazear, St. Joseph; Linda Koenig, Savannah; Bonita Johnson, Joliet, Ill.

Those who have accepted posts in the social science field are Wallace Baker, West Plains; Kirk Daddan, Earlham, Iowa. Placed in a speech position is Charles T. O'Connor, Higginsville; and in physical science, Daniel Schneider, Shawnee Mission, Kan.

Students who have contracts to teach on the elementary levels are Dola Conn at Burlington Junction; Marilyn Frandsen, Cameron; Mardelle Parrish, St. Joseph; Janet Kyle, Des Moines; Patricia Plummer, Hickman Mills; Cheryle Polley, Gilman City; Deanna Noah, Conception Junction; Donna Shreve, St. Joseph; Judith Derry, North Kansas City; Judy Combs, Fairfax.

Those accepting posts in industry are Jerald Sorber, Iowa Power and Light, Des Moines; Max Donald Horton, Social Security Administration; James Ray, materials inspector, Missouri Highway Department; Richard Whetstone, Allis Chalmers; Des Moines; Milton Brod, Peat - Marwick - Mitchell, Kansas City; Milton Piercy Jr., Larson - Morris, St. Joseph; William Hawkins, programming service department, McDonnell-Douglas, St. Louis.

Phi Mu Inductees Hold Pledge Party, Elect Officers

The second semester pledges of Alpha Sigma Alpha, Delta Zeta, and Sigma Sigma Sigma were guests of the Phi Mu pledges at a party held recently in the Phi Mu chapter room.

The theme was "Our Day Will Come," with everyone dressed as young children. Each group of pledges sang their favorite sorority song and played a get-acquainted game, followed serving of refreshments.

Special guests were the housemothers from Franken, Mrs. Coleda Hamilton; Hudson, Mrs. Dorothy Hildebrand; Perrin, Mrs. Louella Thate; and Roberta, Mrs. Margaret Wire.

Pledge trainers present were Jackie Oliphant, Delta Zeta; Marilyn Chavannes, Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Ellen Hamilton, assistant pledge trainer of Phi Mu.

Second semester pledges of the fraternity have selected Karin Hunt as their president.

Other officers are Linda Flachland, vice president; Jean Evans, secretary; Laura Gardner, treasurer; Phyllis Hardy, historian; Marie Smith, song leader; Nancy Powell, chaplain; Chris Rodin, parliamentarian; and Suzie Hunt, standards chairman.

Union Arts Committee Organizes Movies, Exhibits

Committee Three members take down the exhibit on glass, displayed recently in the Student Union. Members working are Donna Burns, Toni Osburn, Linda Smith, Connie Seuell, Linda Snell; Mary Asbell and Mike Miller, co-chairmen.

The Brothers Four, The New Christi Minstrels, Russ Burgess, The Sandpipers, den movies, and dances all have one thing in common — All are sponsored by the MSC Union Board.

Speech Students Enter Hawthorne Festival

Two NWMSC speech students will participate in the ninth annual Hawthorne Interpretation Festival today and Saturday in Columbia, according to Mrs. Charles E. Koerble, instructor of speech.

Marjorie Hitchcock, reading a selection from Anne Morrow Lindbergh's Dearly Beloved, and Gerald Sisson, presenting a selection from Mark Twain's Roughing It, will enter the prose competition. Mrs. Koerble will accompany them to Columbia to serve as a critic in one interpretation round.

Dr. Elbert R. Bowen, chairman of the interpretation interest group of the Speech Association of America and head of the speech and drama department of Michigan University, will serve as critic judge of the festival.

The festival, sponsored by the Missouri Oral Interpreters' Association, will place emphasis on effective interpretation and presentation of literature, rather than on competition.

The program nucleus of the college, the Board is composed of an executive council and five committees which are each headed by two co-chairmen. Each committee works with Mr. Robert Dickey, Union director, to bring both intellectual and entertaining programs to the campus.

Committee Three, arts, headed by Mary Asbell and Mike Miller, recently worked to plan the annual Tower dance. To carry out such an event, the members began planning and building basic scenery at the first of the second semester. Among the many things to be considered were tickets, general publicity, refreshments, decorations, a band, guests, lighting, and props.

Besides the Tower dance, Committee Three will sponsor The Lettermen on Mar. 22, all the den movies, and various exhibits. Members working on this committee are Toni Osburn, Donna Burns, Janet Wilson, Patty Cocking, Marilyn Chavannes, Kathie Maschke, Connie Seuell, Harriett Walden, Cindy Wheeler, Lana Wulf, Gail Emerick, Greg Walkup, Gene Hogue, Mark Hargens, and Linda Gill. Linda Smith, secretary, and Mike Allen, treasurer, are also members of this group.

Committee Three will welcome any new members or ideas for future den movies or exhibits.

Phi Sigma Rumble To Be "Psychedelic"

The annual Phi Sigma Epsilon Rumble will be featured as "Psychedelic" at 9-12 p. m. Mar. 16 in the fraternity's chapter room.

Members and their dates, dressed as "hippies," will dance to the music of the Benzene Ring. Sponsors Robert Morey and Harmon Mothershead will attend the event.

Alumni Report

Dr. J. D. Hammond, '55, is associate professor of business administration at Pennsylvania State University.

From October to December, 1967, he served as staff consultant to the President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

Dr. Hammond is also the assistant editor of the Journal of Risk and Insurance.

Robert Earle Andrews, '54, is living in Green Bay, Wis., where he is instructor of English at the University of Wisconsin, Green Bay. His last degree is that of MA received from Creighton University, Omaha, in 1964.

A Missourian editor from 1952 through the summer of 1954, Mr. Andrews is director of publications. He is also adviser of the Bay Badger, the only weekly newspaper in the University of Wisconsin system, and Parnassus, a creative writing magazine for the 11 WU Centers.

Faculty Briefs

Dr. Leroy Crist, associate professor in the industrial arts department, gave a talk on "Social Changes Reflected in Architecture" at a recent meeting of the Maryville Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Dr. Crist, who formerly taught in an English-speaking school in Turkey, showed slides depicting the life and living conditions in that country. He also showed slides of the ruins of the Roman empire, Scandinavian architecture, and American architecture.

Dr. Frank McHan and Mr. John E. Fuhrman, both professors at MSC, attended a Missouri Optimists' District Board meeting for leaders recently at Rolla.

Other Optimist members attending from Maryville were Mr. Craig Stephenson, Mr. Harry Schieber, and Mr. C. V. "Peany" DeVault.

Senate Hears SDS Denial, Approves 3 Constitutions

Representatives from the proposed Students for a Democratic Society made a public denial to the MSC Student Senate at its regular meeting Mar. 7.

The students present explained that a mimeographed sheet satirizing the student body, faculty and administration had been distributed. One copy had been placed on a bulletin board in Colden Hall with a duplicate of the Student Senate stamp typed on the top.

The SDS representatives explained that they had no knowledge of the author or how they were distributed.

In other Senate business, constitutions for an English Honor Society and a journalism fraternity, two proposed campus organizations, and a revised constitution for the Industrial Arts Club were approved.

A letter of resignation from Bob Brunker was read by President Tom Frank. Brunker's resignation was effective Mar. 14.

Several other things were brought to the attention of the Senate. It was suggested by Senator Victor Jenkins that new academic policies at MSC be printed in installments in the Northwest Missourian. No action was taken.

Another Senator suggested a student bill of rights for MSC. It was explained that the suggested list by school administrators and student leaders in the country was not applicable to the Maryville campus.

Today Is Deadline For 'Fair' Entries In Writers' Book

Today is the final date for submitting materials to be considered for inclusion in Nodaway County's second annual Writers' Fair booklet, Mrs. F. Hauser Winter, chairman, has announced.

Other exhibits, including photo-journalism entries, radio-television scripts, diaries, scrapbooks, original valentines, sermons, news stories, and editorials may be submitted until Apr. 1. They should be taken or mailed to Mrs. Winter.

Information about the fair also may be secured from Mrs. B. J. Alcott, Mrs. J. Norvel Saylor, Miss Beverly Beeks, Mrs. Neva Rhodes, Mrs. James Johnson, or Carl Spencer or by calling at the Missourian office.

The festival will be held Apr. 6 in the Union Ballroom. Activities will include many participation-interest projects held simultaneously in the morning and a 12:30 luncheon where winners in last fall's Philharmonic Essay Contest will be recognized. A special dramatic-musical program will be presented after the luncheon.

'Cat Football Players Start Spring Training

Approximately 30 members of the football squad have been performing agility drills and calisthenics in Lamkin Gymnasium in preparation for the fall season.

The squad under the direction of members of Coach Ivan Schottel's theory class have been working out an hour every afternoon and plan to continue until the end of April.

Student dramatists who will have roles in Eugene O'Neill's famous comedy "Ah, Wilderness!" next week are shown in the Miller living room. They are Susan Blakesley, Lily Miller, Harold Webb, Sid Davis, Loring Miller, who will have the major role of Richard Miller; Jerry Eisenhour, Nat Miller; Janelle Jensen, Essie Miller; Roger Mongold, Arthur Miller; Ruth Martin, Mildred Miller, and seated on the floor, Richard Wilson, young Tommy Miller.

Dr. Ralph Fulsom is director of the play. Richard E. Weaver is scene designer and technical director. Miss Anne Nielsen is assistant director. Curtain time for each of the performances, Mar. 20-23, will be 8 p. m. Students may use ID cards.

Stage Crew Prepares for 'Ah, Wilderness'

When most audiences view a play, they do not take into consideration the often staggering task of backstage preparation that goes into a production.

The various crews and committees for Ah, Wilderness! are preparing for the first dress rehearsal tonight. This week members of the costume committee, headed by Susan Blakesley and assisted by Sue Calbreath, Janelle Jensen, Richard Heinz, Marcia Hensleigh, and Carolyn Farber, have been unpacking and checking costumes.

The properties committee, headed by John Hoffman and assisted by Joel Knutson, Maggie Price, Miss Farber, and Ruth Martin, has been taking from storage furniture, chandeliers and other set decorations and refinishing them to fit the turn-of-the-century period.

The light and sound committee, comprised of Don Jackson, Sig Bonebrake, Gail Bullis, and headed by Heinz, has been recording sound effects, setting lights, and taping music for the play. A certain amount of rewiring was necessary to set up all the equipment, and most of this was done by Heinz.

The publicity crew, headed by Jerry Eisenhour, and assisted by Knutson, Miss Farber, Don Folkman, Harold Webb, and Diana Nelson, has made and displayed posters and broadcast announcements on KDLX.

To the makeup committee, headed by Loring Miller and assisted by Miss Calbreath, Miss Hensleigh, and Miss Price, falls the task of making characters appear lifelike under bright stage lights. Not only must the characters appear to be real, but certain matters, such as family resemblances, must be made apparent where there actually are none to begin with.

Folkman and Mike Glennon are in charge of running the show as stage crew, with the charge to see that each scene is set before the curtain goes up.

Anne Nielsen, student director and stage manager, must see that every phase of the production such as lights, sound, and settings, is in perfect order during performance.

To Mr. Richard Weaver's stagecraft class, Bonebrake, Janelle Jensen, Jackson, Miss Farber, Diana Nelson, and Francie Flannagan, has fallen the task of building the three-set show. The parts of the set were not built from wood. Metal and canvas were refinished to give the play the flavor of the early 20th century.

Dr. Ralph Fulsom is directing the Eugene O'Neill comedy that will run in the Administration Building Auditorium Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

KDLX to Begin

schedule. Classical, jazz and folk music, talk programs, as well as easy listening and "Top 40" music will be broadcast.

Staff members of KDLX radio include Mrs. Ray Cushman, director of broadcasting activities; Rollie Staldman, station manager, and John Bassett, program director.

Other staff members include Bill Mauzey and Gene McCombs, co-advertising managers; Eldon Hunsicker, business manager; Ken Redick, news director, and Gene McCombs, sports director.

The staff welcomes constructive criticism to help improve the programming and entertainment of KDLX. It is the aim of Station KDLX to bring to the campus the news, information, and entertainment which students want. The station is to be the mouthpiece of the students of MSC.

Mrs. Cushman stresses, "It is my wish that KDLX can be a voice of the students and reflect interests of the student body. KDLX belongs to the students."

Agriculture Students Have Honorary Society

Agriculture students may now qualify for membership in the honor society of Delta Tau Alpha.

The requirements are 15 hrs. in agriculture, 45 hrs. in college, and 3.0 grade average. Students interested should contact Dr. John Beeks, or Mr. George, co-sponsor. Officers of the local chapter are Eddie Hale, president; John E. Blackford, secretary, and Charles R. Teel, treasurer.

The organization is two years old and has 18 chapters in the United States. A national meeting will be held at the Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston, La., on Apr. 7, 8, and 9.

Faculty Wives Plan Wedding Gown Show

Bridal styles of today and yesteryear are modeled by Mrs. Stuart Lewis and Mrs. Edward L. Farquhar. The women are two of the models chosen for the Faculty Wives' Bridal Revue.

Wedding gowns will be modeled by Faculty Dames at a guest night event, beginning at 7 o'clock Mar. 21 in the Ballroom of the Union.

Among the featured gowns will be one brought by an emigrant from England in 1880. Two of the dresses have been worn by the mothers of faculty wives, who later wore them when they celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries. Some of the gowns worn during World War II were made of bolt ends because of the scarcity of white material.

The "brides" will walk down the aisle on the traditional carpeting. At the reception, wedding cake will be served.

Guests will include women members of the faculty, according to Mrs. David Easterla, president. Co-chairmen of the program are Mrs. Clifford Bruce and Mrs. Gary Collins.

The guest night revue will also feature a display of MSC faculty wedding pictures.

MSC Senior Dies While at Work In Post Office

Bruce E. Twaddle, father of five, and a last semester senior at Northwest Missouri State College, was dead on arrival at a local hospital Saturday morning from a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head.

Mr. Twaddle, a business major, shot himself inside a walk-in vault at the Maryville Post Office, where he was employed as a part-time custodian. Working associates indicated Twaddle had appeared worried and despondent over the pressure of studies and work.

He was born Sept. 24, 1932, at Blanchard, Iowa, and was the son of Mrs. Mae Twaddle, Elmo, and the late William Twaddle. Besides his mother, he is survived by his wife, Marie, and five children, Bruce Jr., 11; Bryan D., 6; Brad, 6 months; Patrice, 13, and Michelle, 9.

Funeral services for Mr. Twaddle were held at 3 p. m. Monday at the Maryville Methodist Church, with the Rev. F. Hauser Winter in charge of rites. Burial was in LaMar Cemetery, Elmo.

Alpha Mu Gamma Inducts Members

Alpha Mu Gamma initiated 14 students and three faculty members Wednesday night at the meeting held in the East Ballroom.

The following students received certificates in Spanish: Mrs. Shirley A. Arnold, Fred Beavers, Geraldine Ingram, Judy Johnson, Diana Lynn Nelson, Patricia Peterson, and Dorothy Wilson.

Those receiving French certificates are Patricia Gibson, Linda Hon, Linda Nash, Myra Kay Norman, Nancy Peterson, Linda Lou Tatman, and Gail Wiederholt.

The three faculty members initiated are Mrs. John Mauzay, Mr. Channing Horner, and Mrs. Louise B. Horner.

Dr. Joseph A. Dreps, former chairman of the foreign language department, and Mrs. Dreps, were guests at the meeting. Mrs. Dreps served at the refreshment table during the reception held after the meeting.

Gail Dixon invited two of her classmates to her parents' farm near Savannah for a week-end visit. Jan Harris and Brenda Brubeck are from Kansas City, but inexperience did not stop them from pitching in with the chores. They even tried milking cows! It was hilarious fun, but they are still wondering how to get the milk into the pail.

Jackie Kampmann has brought the outdoors into her dormitory room in the form of a tree trunk table. Measuring 21" in diameter, the versatile table is also used for a chair or a footstool.

"It's a bit of home," commented Jackie, explaining that it came off a tree in her parents' yard. "I will admit that it embarrassed Dad a bit to lug it up here."

That saucy college cat Tanner, who spends most of her time at the Administration Building, continues to live in high style. Mr. Dennis Padgett was seen serving her milk in Dr. John Beeks' Lions Club ash tray.

"Shall we continue running those free malt ads?" Missouriian Advertising Manager John Ford inquired of Edward V. "Colonel" Condon at Condon's Corner Drug Store. Answering in the affirmative with a grin, Mr. Condon explained: "I've been giving away those malts for 15 years. That's what makes the students out there so healthy!"

Phil Edwards was seen scurrying toward the Phi Sigma Epsilon House after fraternity brothers had dunked him in the campus pond. No hard feelings. This was simply his friends' celebration of his pinning Nicki Cook.

"Sometimes it is hard to believe we are in the Jet Age," muses Larry Carr at the Alpha Kappa Lambda House.

"If we were to go home to Des Moines on the bus, I'd have to go by way of Omaha. The trip would take over eight hours and would cost $6.40! (Des Moines is only 150 miles from Maryville.)"

Complementing the orange accent in the decor of two co-eds' room in Hudson Hall, a miniature orange tree is prized by Denise Hammer and Marie Klang. Finally, one of the oranges got so luscious looking that they could not resist sampling it.

"We've decided they aren't for eating," explained Marie, puckering her mouth as she recalled the "bitter lime" taste.

Alphabet Is Used As Mural Motif

The recently completed ceramic tile mural in Wells Library is not what many students would think: an abstract design.

The design is a derivation from symbols pertaining to the development of the modern alphabet. Its designer's basic concept was to produce an exciting, colorful semi-abstract effect. There was no attempt to trace historical progress, but, instead, the stress was placed upon the forms man has used to convey and record his thoughts throughout time.

The letter-forms, which range from Ancient Greek and Hebrew to the contemporary fonts, were presented in the chosen pattern to emphasize the function of communication.

If viewers will stop and look the mural over carefully, they will recognize a few of the letter-forms and realize how much letters and symbols have changed since the beginning of time.

Phil Youngs Named New GDI Leader

Phil Youngs, junior, has been elected the new president for GDI (Gestio Demptus Intepide) for a one-year term.

Other new officers are Judy Russell, vice president; Leslie Hunter, secretary; Mary J. Jansen, treasurer, and Carlene Buck, historian. Dr. Donald J. Armstrong and Mr. Wayne VanZomeren are sponsors.

Among the activities planned for this semester are a faculty slave auction, UMOG participation, and a candy sale.

Doug Stickelman is the GDI social chairman.

Modern Dance Club Offers Opportunity in Interpretative Art

and Marsha Harris; center: Linda Duvall, Roselyn Gibson, and Rosemarie Dreager; right: Kathi Ebbrecht, Dinah Shell, Terry Robinson, and Mary Clepple.

Three years ago a group of enthusiastic dancers separated from the Social Dance Club to form the Modern Dance Club.

The club specializes in interpretative dancing and more contemporary music styles including some jazz, classical and even psychedelic compositions. To enhance the ability and develop the potential of its members through weekly practice sessions is one of the main goals of the organization. It also offers interested students the opportunity to perform publicly and reveal their talent.

In the past, Dance Club has staged various productions such as "The Modern Dance Concert," in 1965 and "Carousel," 1966. This year, "The Hunt" was performed as part of the "Christmas Spirit" program. On Physical Education Career Day the club gives demonstrations of dances and exercises.

Acting officers of the organization include Rosemarie Dreager, president, and Linda Hall, vice president.

Currently, the group is planning a program for Apr. 30. "We need far more participants," Mrs. Ann Brekke said as she extended an invitation to those interested in dancing with the group.

Weekly meetings of the Modern Dance Club begin at 6:30 p. m. each Thursday in Martindale Gymnasium.

Stewart, Wayne Star In Week-end Movies

"Shenandoah" and "Sons of Katie Elder" will be the den movies to be shown at 7 p. m. tonight in the Administration Building Auditorium.

James Stewart stars as a Virginian who has attempted to make his homestead an island, sheltered from the horrors of the Civil War. Finally he is forced to take a stand when one of his sons, mistaken for a confederate straggler, is taken prisoner. Doug McClure, Glenn Corbett, and Rosemary Forsyth co-star in the drama.

"Sons of Katie Elder," an emotion packed drama of the West, stars John Wayne in one of his best performances.

The Students Speak Against Status Quo of Elections

Some dissatisfaction with the status quo regarding student participation in voting was revealed in a sample survey made last week by Missourian reporters.

More than 60 students answered a questionnaire submitted at random to dormitory and off-campus residents as well as to commuters.

Approximately 60 per cent of the students responding indicated they usually vote in campus elections. The majority of the students vote only when they know the candidates while a lesser number vote only when the issue involved affects them directly or "when the mood strikes them."

Two-thirds of those who answered the questionnaire feel their vote is effective. Among those who feel their vote is inadequate was Richard Heinz, senior, Bethany, who said, "Rarely (do we) see issues, (it's) usually just celebrities."

Judy Russell, junior; Henderson, Iowa, stated, "I feel elections should be based more on qualifications rather than friendship or organizational pressure."

Though several stressed an extreme dislike for the Den as a voting station, the majority still feel it is most convenient. In order of preference, the

Final Qualification Made for Scholarships

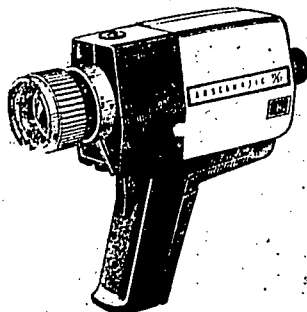

Final required qualifications for receiving the Hudson Hall Scholarships were announced Monday night at the Hudson Council meeting.

Millie Magner, chairman of the scholarship committee, announced that applications would soon be available for residents of Hudson Hall, who are planning to attend the college next fall.

Two scholarships, one for $150 and one for $100, are being offered by Hudson. Both are applicable to the fall and spring semesters of the coming school year.

Girls will be selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and contribution to Hudson Hall. A 2.5 grade point is required in order to be eligible for the grant. The deadline for applications is tentatively set for Apr. 15.

Dialogue Promotes Understanding

Sue Shew, Steve Connors, Linda Sams, officers, and Miss Karen Licklider, adviser, confer about the minutes of Dialogue.

Initiated just last year by Miss Karen Licklider, dean of women, a group called "Dialogue" has been formed to further more efficient student-faculty relationships.

As the club's name suggests, dialogues, discourse and debates compose the format of its meetings. Discussions center upon problems on the campus, such as the forming of organizations, parking regulations, admissions policies, and similar topics.

Since the group meets at 6 p. m. every first and third Monday of the month, the first meeting is dedicated to discussing topics or problems recently raised by the students. The week following an administrator or faculty member who may be of assistance in solving a problem or answering a question is invited to attend the meeting.

campus discussion and enlightenment group. All interested students may attend the Dialogue sessions.

The most recent controversy that Dialogue has undertaken is that of the organization of the Students for a Democratic Society. At a recent meeting, SDS leaders were invited to attend to discuss the difficulties of forming an organization.

Past topics and speakers have ranged from Religious Emphasis Week, Dr. Virginia DeMarce, to parking regulations on campus, Mr. Bruce Wake, and admissions policies and appeals program, Dr. Charles H. Thate, dean of administration.

Presently, the group, in order to promote better communication on campus, is striving to provide for a representative from every campus organization. Also, a means of communicating meeting results to the students has become a challenge to the group.

Northwest District MHEA Meeting To Be Held Here

The Northwest District Missouri Home Economics Association will have its Annual Spring Meeting Saturday in the Student Union.

Included in the program will be presentations by Dr. Edward Metzen, chairman, "Home Management and Family Economics," University of Missouri, Columbia; Mr. Paul Joly, director of Public Relations, Missouri Credit Union League, St. Louis; and Mrs. Lorena Myers, consumer specialist, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Food and Drug Administration, Kansas City.

The program includes a "Consumer Problems" theme in accordance with emphasis on that area by the Missouri Home Economics Association.

Organized this year, the Northwest District Missouri Home Economics Association membership includes home economists from 19 counties in Northwest Missouri.

The association's object is to provide opportunities for professional home economists and members from other fields to cooperate in the attainment of the well-being of individuals and families, the improvement of homes, and the preservation of values significant in home life.

Larry Cox to Review Styron's 'Confessions'

Larry Cox will present a review of William Styron's book, "Confessions of Nat Turner," in the Lower Lakeview room at 7 p. m. Thursday.

This Book Club review describes the life of a slave, Nat Turner, and his attempts to free himself from the bonds of slavery.

MSC Jazz Group To Visit Schools

The Progressive Jazz Group will make its annual tour to area schools Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Included in the tour will be the schools at Jefferson of Conception Junction, West Nodaway, Excelsior Springs, Brainerd, and Plattsburg.

Composed of 23 musicians, the group is under the direction of Mr. Earle Moss. Members are Terry Barnes, Wendee Beam, Ethel Bowman, Jack Briggs, Robert Bruner, Frank Carlile, David Chapman, Gail Christensen, John Coss, Stephen Dempsey, Doug Jackson, John Judd, Coleen Kish, Merle Larson, Harlan Moore, Wayne Moore, Bill Musgrave.

On the Action Front With MSC Alumni

Miss Judy Thatch, '66, has an assistantship for teaching Spanish at the University of Missouri while working on her master's degree.

She taught in a Denver, Colo., public high school one year before enrolling at M. U.

Dr. J. D. Hammond, '55, is Associate Professor of Business Administration at Pennsylvania State University.

Last year he served three months as staff consultant under Governor Hughes' New Jersey division of the President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders. His position concerned investigating problems of insurance availability in riot-affected areas. In addition, he is assistant editor of the Journal of Risk and Insurance.

Miss Frances Stuart, '37, native of Maryville, is now State Supervisor of Physical Education in New York's State Education Department.

Upon graduating from MSC, she instructed physical education in the Kansas City area schools before moving to Albany, N. Y., where she has resided approximately 15 years.

Loren Stoneman, '59, librarian at Nevada, Iowa, was a campus visitor last Monday.

Mr. Stoneman returned to MSC for a year to complete a library science minor. He has worked in his present position for five years.

AWS to Present Bridal Show

Judy Joubert, Jan Roberts Ellis, and Kathy Johnson model gowns they will wear Monday in the AWS Bridal Show.

"Here Comes the Bride," the AWS Bridal Show, will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Charles Johnson Theater.

Bridal fashions through the centuries, donated by MSC girls and their families, will be shown. Modern fashions for brides, attendants, and mothers of the bride will be presented by Townsends of St. Joseph. Modeling will be done by students and former brides on campus.

Speakers will be provided by St. Joseph businesses. Miss Elsa Hart, sponsored by Joe Optican, will present tips on selecting a diamond, and Harold Schmitz, manager of Travel and Transport, will discuss honeymoon travel.

Speech Group Attends Hospital Symposium

Speech correction students and their instructor, Mr. Clifford E. Bruce, journeyed to the University of Kansas Medical Center last Friday to attend a symposium on "Hearing and Speech."

Displays of invitations, cakes, and photography will be set up in the lobbies. Packets with assorted information will be given at the doors.

Committee leaders for this show are Marilyn Wieneke and Cheryl Crowley, co-chairmen; Paulette Henkowski, bridal fashions.

Roxanna Holleman, former brides; Wanda Culver, displays; Jo Ann Voyce, programs; Ivana Griffin, invitations; Sue Bowser, packets; Wendee Beam, music, and Carol Breeding, publicity.

All MSC students and faculty are invited to attend.

Letter From Mr. Reeves

The Northwest Missourian received a letter recently from an MSC alumni, Fred J. Reeves, asking to be put on the mailing list.

Mr. Reeves stated that he would like to keep posted on MSC's latest developments. Mr. Reeves is on leave from his duties as an instructor of physical education doing graduate work at Utah State University.

39 High School Speech Students Take Part in MSC Pre-Festival

Approximately 39 students and 15 adults, representing high schools in a 19-county area of Missouri, plus schools from Southwest Iowa and Northeast Nebraska, merged on the MSC campus Saturday for a one-day pre-festival sponsored by the college speech department.

High school students participating in the event, the first of its kind at MSC, were given experience in preparation for competition in the District Speech Festival to be held Apr. 19 and 20 at MSC. Contestants entered events in duet acting, public speaking, oral interpretation, debate, extemporaneous speaking, and radio speaking.

A morning "coke break" was held in the Den with the speech department as host group. At noon the high school students were guests of the college for lunch.

During the lunch hour, students of the speech department presented a program. Master of ceremonies for the program was Rolie Staldman.

Jim Hulse and Staldman presented a humorous debate, John Hoffman did impersonations, and John Bassett presented a simulated disc jockey program.

After the day's activities, the speech department was host to the students and advisers at the Community Theater production of "My Three Angels."

Mr. George Hinshaw, MSC speech instructor, was overall director of the one-day pre-festival activities.

Remodeling of Library To Be Completed Soon

Mr. James Johnson, MSC librarian, in a progress report on remodeling of the Wells Library, states that the new stacks should be completed by the end of March.

Students will soon be able to check out more prints when additional frames arrive. The prints, similar to those pictures hanging at various places in the library, may be checked out for the rest of the semester.

In Area Colleges...

U. N. Honors . . . Prospect of Raised Fees . . . Fellowship Grants . . . College Rodeo Contest

Ball State University, of Muncie, Ind., attained national honors recently when its delegates participated in the National Model United Nations in New York City.

The BSU delegation was voted most prominent representative group in the Model U. N. Security Council and was selected among the top ten of 172 college and university competitors.

Since mid-summer, petty thefts and vandalisms at University of Missouri at Kansas City have accounted for nearly $5,000 worth of damage and loss to its Center.

All because of a small, disgraceful, and destructive minority, UMKC Center fees may be raised for all students — unfortunately — instead of only for those in the minority.

Federal aid was granted recently to Central Missouri State College for graduate fellowships in the critically shorted areas of speech and hearing therapy to encourage capable, willing people to enter these fields.

Fort Hays Kansas State College has set its third annual Intercollegiate Rodeo for late spring at the college farm's stock arena.

An area stock contractor furnishes stock for the show, in which an expected 10 to 12 colleges and universities from Kansas, Colorado, and Oklahoma will compete.

FHS's Rodeo Club won six shows last season.

MSC chaplains, of Millersville, Pa., will help conduct an "Ecumenical Semester" consisting of numerous joint activities beginning with a student prayer service for unity.

Roman Catholic, Protestant, and Greek Orthodox chaplains have planned activities so that no partiality will be shown. Contributions will finance the project.

Northeast Missouri State College, Kirksville, announced recently that it would adopt an "honors dorm system" next fall.

Women, at least 21 years of age with 60 semester hours and with a grade point average of 2.5, will be eligible to participate in the program. Students qualifying will be granted extended hours and will set up rules to organize their own government. Residents will determine their own dorm dress code, quiet hours, and many other areas of importance to girls.

Letter to Editors

To the Editors:

We were formerly interested in forming a local chapter of Students for a Democratic Society on this campus. However, since our ideals and methods do not consistently coincide with those of the National Council for Students for a Democratic Society, which is basically a militant organization, we feel that it would be better for us to form a separate organization called "Students for Democratic Action."

The basic purpose of this organization is to promote civil rights and liberties of NWMSC members of the community. A meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, Mar. 19, in the East Ballroom, Union, to give a picture of the definite purposes of the groups and to develop a constitution. As this will be a question-and-answer session, attendance will not be limited to members. All interested students and faculty are invited to attend.

Students Speak

dormitories, Colden Hall Lounge, dining areas, and Administration Building were suggested as possible poll locations.

The majority of the students surveyed feel that publicity in general is inadequate, but two-thirds signified they believe newspaper coverage is sufficient. Suggestions for publicizing election data more effectively were made by several students. Sheryl Smith, senior, Elliott, Iowa, stated: "Announce it over the intercom at meals. Include the names of the candidates."

Thomas Brick, freshman, Laredo, feels, "I for one usually don't know the candidates even by sight. I think it would behoove the people involved, especially the candidates, to find and use a means of acquainting themselves with the students, enabling us to become familiar with the attributes, as well as the less desirable traits, of each candidate."

"I know that when I look the pictures of various candidates over, I don't know any more than I did. I just see pictures and names — no statistics or

Does the Students for a Democratic Society group have a purpose? Is SDS a militant group? Does the Northwest Missouri State College SDS wish to be recognized and affiliated with the national Students for a Democratic Society organization? What does SDS plan to do?

These are some of the questions the Student Senate is asking the students who would like to be recognized as an organized group on MSC's campus known as Students for a Democratic Society.

Representatives of SDS and the Student Senate discussed the above questions for representatives of other campus organizations at a recent meeting of Dialogue.

Probably the most basic question that is perplexing the Student Senate is, "What is the purpose of SDS?" Three times SDS representatives were asked this, and three times they replied that they would like to bring the faculty, students, and administration into a working body.

They believe the students should have more power in the administration. The school is for the students; students should have power. They plan to help write a new students' rights handbook. They also will work with civil rights and are concerned with the war in Viet Nam.

The Student Senate stated that one of the reasons they are against SDS is because they don't think there is a need for it. They say that whatever SDS wants to do can be done through some other group.

Is SDS militant? . . . "We are not militant. We will start at the bottom and work to the top for changes rather than picket and cause riots and go straight to the top," was the reply of the SDS representa-

Walter James Seibert, sophomore, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, believes, "It would be beneficial to have debates where the audience could ask questions pertaining to policy. There is too much apathy pertaining to the importance of offices."

Stephen Whitney, senior, St. Joseph, believes there should be more posters telling what organizations are backing what candidate. Anne Nielson, senior, Winterset, Iowa, suggested KDLX coverage.

By far the most frequent comment was made on student apathy. Delores Stoll, sophomore, Conception Junction, summed up this problem: "I think most of us have at some time felt that our individual vote was of no importance. But that is the problem in itself. If everyone would vote, even though he felt his vote was wasted, we might come up with some pretty surprising elections. I think many students are apathetic."

"Apathy — that is what everybody talks about, but what nobody does anything about. That is why I think that everyone should get out and vote. It doesn't matter whether or not your ballot turns out to be the crucial, winning vote. The main thing is that you have the right to vote. That is the important thing," Miss Stoll emphasized.

Who's Afraid of SDS?

What if SDS becomes militant?" is the question that usually follows. There need be no answer, because in such a case, the Student Senate then has the power to disband the organization.

Does the MSC group wish to be recognized and affiliated with the national SDS? . . .

Letter to Editor

VIEW ON SDS FORMATION

Many people are opposed to SDS for fear of it being a protest organization. I feel that the main objective of SDS at MSC is to foster freedom of speech and press. These problems can be solved by the college without the formation of SDS.

In fostering freedom of speech at MSC, a centrally located speaking platform should be erected where anyone could express his views to any audience who is willing to listen. Since the Northwest Missourian is mainly limited to reporting organizational and campus activities, it does not have the time nor space for extensive printing of students' views on national issues. This is evident in a student's limitation to voice his views in 125 words or less. This problem can be eliminated by the creation of a second student newspaper or additional pages in the Missourian for this purpose. In either case they should be entirely free from censorship.

Since freedom of speech and press are both constitutional rights of every citizen, they should not be disregarded by the college or the student body.

Complainers, Where Are You?

What has happened to the big complainers who say that AWS (Associated Women Students) is a worthless organization?

I would challenge these noisemakers to show their faces, or better yet, I would challenge them to express their criticisms in a constructive manner by voting for the candidates who will best serve the interests of the women students.

It was appalling for me to note the high percentage of women who did not vote at the elections held Wednesday, Mar. 6. If the organization seems to be inactive, the reason is obvious — the voters themselves are inactive to the extent that they cannot even bother to take two minutes' time to mark ballots that are conveniently placed in every women's residence hall.

AWS is active despite the fact that the majority of women students do not accept their responsibilities as college citizens by voting when election time arrives. Evidence of progress and benefits can be seen by the work and effort extended for changing rules to fit the needs of women students as nearly as possible.

At present there are committees working to change or improve the sign-in and sign-out regulations as well as the dress regulations for evening meals. At the same time, the Rules Revision Committee has been formed to update the code handbook, which is revised yearly.

Among other changes made is the senior key system, which has proven successful. AWS also sponsors such events as the Dads' Day Weekend, the Big Sister-Little Sister Coke Party, Mothers' Weekend, Penny night, the fall style show, and the Bridal Show, which is a new event for this year. It is quite obvious that AWS is far from being inactive or worthless.

Any woman student who feels dissatisfied with the effectiveness of the organization, will find that AWS is always open to suggestions and heartily welcomes ideas for change or improvement. AWS likes the complainer who is willing to take his gripes to a representative. She is even welcome to accompany the representative to a meeting, where her opinion may be presented personally.

There is still a chance for all of the non-voting complainers to express actively any feelings concerning AWS. By talking with representatives, by supporting the new officers, and by participating in activities, the complainer will contribute to making AWS even more active and worthwhile than it is already. — Judy Palumbo

Coach Iba Answers Queries On Preparation for Olympics

By David Horsman

This writer recently received a letter from Henry Iba, athletic director at Oklahoma State University, in reply to a questionnaire that was intended to supplement a feature story on him.

The occasion of Mr. Iba's appointment as mentor of the United States Olympic basketball team necessitated the printing of the story in the Feb. 9 issue of the Northwest Missourian before his reply arrived. Coach Iba's answers included several points that were not expressed in the previous story.

On an introductory note, Mr. Iba said that he is looking forward to a reunion of MSC alumni in Los Angeles this month.

Concerning his lifelong profession, basketball, MSC's "Iron Duke" stated that court tactics have not changed greatly since he left Maryville, except for a more highly geared offense.

"Your teams are shooting better than they did at the time I was at Northwest Missouri. However, the teams do not pass or handle the ball as well as in those days."

In reference to the elimination of the "dunk" in college basketball, Mr. Iba believes that the Rules Committee made a sound decision on the basis of injuries, breaking of backboards, and bending of baskets. Also, in his opinion, it will be only a matter of time before the basket will be raised to a height above ten feet.

The upcoming Olympics in Mexico City gained the most recognition in Coach Iba's letter:

"In the early days we could pick up the best boys we had and defeat the foreign countries since they were not advanced to any degree in the sport of basketball. But since so many of our teams and coaches have gone into the various foreign countries, these countries have picked up our knowledge of the sport and are doing a good job of using the coaching techniques of the United States teams."

The choosing of Mr. Iba's Olympic roundballers will be the job of the Olympic Committee. A tournament will be held at Albuquerque, N. Mex., on April 4-6. An eight-team bracket will comprise the tournament, consisting of three NCAA university teams, (11 men to a team), one AAU team, one junior college team, one service team, one NCAA college team, and one team from the NAIA. Only 10 men can compete on each team in the tournament. On the Sunday following this tournament, the Olympic Committee will meet and select the team and the alternates to represent the United States.

Twelve men are taken to the Olympic Games and their names must be turned in about 20 days before the Games start.

Coach Iba mentioned several problems encountered in directing an Olympic team. Time allowed in molding the young men into a team is critical. All the boys have played different types of basketball and must get acquainted with the moves of the other players. Split practice sessions will be held during the last two weeks of June or early July. Four weeks in September and early October, immediately preceding the Games, will be spent in high altitude training at Adams State College in Alamosa, Colo., to accustom the team to Mexico City's thin atmosphere.

Keeping the team together after arriving at the Olympic Games is another problem faced by Mr. Iba, both at the Tokyo Games in 1964 and in the approaching 1968 Games. There are many outstanding players and the paper interviews with them become hindrances in organizing the team as a whole. Stress on the members of a yet unbeaten U. S. basketball team is a key problem to be met by Coach Iba.

"The flawless record of the U. S. team is discussed much in the Village and there is a great desire to see someone beat the United States. You must keep the team away from this and stress team play all of the time."

Henry Iba's letter reflected an eagerness to meet a new challenge — a challenge that will have to take its place among many others that he has met and overcome.

Schottel Named To NCAA Group

Ivan Schottel, head football coach of the MSC Bearcats, has been named to the NCAA District VI small college All-American selection committee.

Schottel was notified of his two-year appointment by Murray Warmath, football coach at the University of Minnesota and president of the American Football Coaches Association which makes the appointments to the selection committees.

Schottel recently completed his fifth season as head coach of the Bearcats. Prior to his appointment at MSC, he coached 10 years at St. Benedict's College, Atchison, Kan., turning the Ravens into an NAIA football power until the sport was dropped in 1963.

Schottel's college coaching record, including his five years at MSC, is a creditable 75-56-4.

An MSC graduate who gained All-MIAA honors as a Bearcat back during the late '30's, Schottel played professional football for the Detroit Lions of the NFL until shelved by an injury.

Springfield Clinches Title Early; MSC's 'Cats Show Improvement

By Jay McWilliams

Suspense was lacking in the MIAA basketball race this year as Southwest Missouri State made a shambles of the competition with a 9-1 mark.

Because Kirksville, the second place team, could manage no better than a 5-5 mark, there was never really a race; the Springfield Bears led all of the way. The only jolt in the entire season happened when last place Southeast Missouri State dealt the Bears a 74-73 defeat. The loss was the first for the Springfield school in 30 MIAA games.

With Springfield clinching the title early, the battle was for second place. Kirksville gained the spot with its 5-5 mark; but behind them came the other teams, including MSC, with 4-6 marks in a four-way tie for third. The fact that only one game separated the last four teams exemplified the tremendous balance of the league.

Although the Bearcats did suffer their fifth straight losing season, MSC fans had an opportunity to watch a team which promises to be a challenge to Springfield next year.

Coach Dick Buckridge started the season with only one senior, Bob Nelson. It was a green team, one which made mistakes, but as the season progressed it became evident that the young 'Cats were maturing into a sound unit.

Next year's returning team will have plenty of assets, including two top notch guards, Gary Howren and Gary Goodson. Goodson, possessor of an extremely accurate jump shot, may replace the graduating Nelson beside Howren in the backcourt.

Howren's play was one of the bright spots on the team all season. The lanky 6-1, 170-pound guard played excellent defense and showed strong offensive spurts. A tremendous play-maker, he should be one of the outstanding all-around guards in the conference next season. These two, along with Roger Nelson and Curt Lantz, are expected to give the squad depth at the guard position.

The team's weakness appears to be at one forward post, despite the fact that all-conference candidate Don Sears plays one of the two positions almost with perfection. The lean 6-4 Sears was one of the best all-around players in the conference as he was the league's leading rebounder and ninth leading scorer. MSC could not possibly have approached its current record without his consistent performance.

The team's weakness is at the other forward position.

One answer to the problem could be the moving of one of the team's three capable young centers to forward. Ron Petersen, 6-6, Ralph Gifford, 6-8, and Darnell Moore, 6-5, will be back to battle for center.

Petersen, the returning center, is a rugged rebounder and defensive player, but needs to improve on his scoring to reach stardom. His 25-point effort in the season finale gives reason to believe that he is ready to carry more of the scoring load next season.

A rebounding trio of Sears, Petersen, and Moore would be hard to match, but whether or not any of the three have the speed and motion for forward, or whether Ken Sheridan will develop into a fast breaking forward remains to be seen.

Bearcats to Open Tennis Matches Against Jayhawks

Practice is underway as the MSC tennis team prepares to start the 1968 schedule Mar. 23 against the University of Kansas.

Last year the team had a successful season in dual matches as it posted a 9-3 record. The only teams to defeat the Bearcats were Parsons College and Graceland College, who was victor twice. Despite a strong dual meet mark, the team could only place fourth in the MIAA conference meet.

This season, a pair of new additions, John Braden and John Gardner, join a talented group of six veteran lettermen. The six, Al Coleman, 2-1; Jim Crozier, 7-4; Lynn Manhart, 10-1; Bob Schilling, 9-1; Dick Schilling, 8-3, and George Varchola, 8-1, have posted a 45-11 record in dual meets.

MSC also has had a commendable victory slate in the doubles matches as teams of the Schilling brothers, 6-2, Horrell and Varchola, 5-2, and Crozier and Manhart, 8-0, posted a 19-4 record.

'Cat's Eye-View

By Eugene McCombs

With Grapefruit League games underway, the old 'Cat is really starting to get spring fever. He's also wondering what California is going to do with Charles, Charlie O., and the A's. It seems as though the odds-makers are betting even money that the A's won't draw more than 900,000 fans at Oakland this season.

For the professional soccer fans, the Kansas City Spurs will make their home debut Apr. 7 at Municipal Stadium. As you readers probably know, the Spurs came to Kansas City from Chicago.

Coming a little closer to home, the 'Cat has learned that the Tarkio College Lettermen's Club is sponsoring a basketball game between members of the Kansas City Chiefs and an All-Star team of Tarkio college students tonight.

There's more to being sports editor for the Northwest Missourian than writing. Recently, David Horsman, sports editor received a three-page letter from Coach Henry Iba. Coach Iba, former mentor at MSC, acknowledges that he's still interested in the happenings of the Bearcats and MSC.

Coach Iba is basketball coach for the Olympic team again this year — This is the second time he has been honored with the position.

John Mason, Fort Hays State College senior, was one of six Americans who traveled to Moscow Feb. 16 to participate in the Soviet Union's indoor track meet.

Competing with entrants from nine other countries, the Americans grabbed six first places. Mason's clocking in the 1,500 meter run was a new Sports Palace record.

MSC Tracksters Drop 2 Indoor Meets

The MSC indoor tracksters dropped a pair of meets last weekend to Peru, Neb., and Omaha University.

Returning early Saturday morning from Omaha, the thin-clads were able to rest for only a few hours before taking on Peru in Lamkin Gymnasium.

It was obviously a disappointing weekend, but from the score one could reason that a few better times here and there could have spelled the difference between victories and losses.

In Omaha, the final tally showed MSC on the short end of a 70-52 figure.

In the field events, Maryville captured three of four first place positions: Jim Komm, shot put, 46-6½; Gary Howren, high jump, 6-1¼, and Bob Hobbs, broad jump, 21-1.

Freshman Charles Gilkerson performed outstandingly, winning the mile run with a time of 4:29.8 and placing second in the 880-yard run with a 2:03.3. Kent Kavanaugh covered the 1,000-yard event in 2:21.5 to take first.

Ken Shaw and Marty Schwartz captured second and third in the 60-yard low hurdles with times of 7.4 and 7.5 seconds.

In the Peru contest, held on the home grounds, it was much the same story. The Bearcats fell to the Nebraska squad by a margin of 60-49. Again, a second or foot in every event separated the winner from the second place entrant.

Howren was tops in the high jump at 5-10, and Larry Forgey took the pole vault competition honors with a 12 footer. Gilkerson was not as sharp as the day before but managed to place second in the mile and third in the two mile run.

Schwartz took third in a "photo - finish" 40 yard high hurdle dash, and Dan Reed and Kavanaugh took first and second in the seven-lap run with 2:11 and 2:12 times.

Shaw and Dennis Ohde nailed the down second and third in the 40 yard low hurdles in another close race, and the 16-lap relay team of Pete Hager, Alumbaugh, Koroch, and Sullivan, took first by a large margin.

The eight-lap relay team, Hager, Korach, Kavanaugh, and Howlett, also placed first.

MSC Claims Tallest Cager Of 1937: A. J. 'Ike' Howell

"Ike" Howell, in his Bearcat days, gives himself a good foundation as he plants his feet in a wide stance. In the upper corner is Mr. Howell today.

In 1937, Northwest Missouri State College had the distinction in basketball realms of having the United States' tallest player, a 6-foot-10 athlete by the name of A. J. "Ike" Howell.

Coach Ryland Milner, now athletic director of MSC, and Coach Wilbur "Sparky" Stalcup, presently athletic director at the University of Missouri, learned about Howell in 1937 from Everett Richards, who was captain of the first football team Coach Milner guided at MSC.

After hearing about the lengthy Southerner, Coaches Milner and Stalcup went to Columbus, Ga., to meet him. Mr. Milner commented, "The first time we met Ike, he was working at a packing house in Columbus. He came out on a loading dock and stepped to the ground like most people would step from a step on a stairway."

From '37 to '40 Howell played basketball for the Bearcats, and during those years he became the first seven-foot roundballer. While at MSC, Howell also participated in football and tennis, and pitched for the baseball team. He lettered in football, basketball, and baseball. He was graduated from MSC with a BS degree in Secondary Education.

"For his size," noted Coach Milner, "he was very well coordinated."

Among Howell's teammates at MSC were Mr. Quentin Goslee, now president of the Nodaway - Worth Rural Electric Association; Mr. Harold Hull, a local attorney; Mr. Ivan Schottel, head football coach at MSC, and Mr. Robert Gregory, assistant professor of physical education here.

Howell a Baptist minister, now lives in Orlando, Fla. He visited MSC a few years ago. Coach Milner says that Howell has grown a little since his playing days — Howell is now 7-3.

Recently, the Northwest Missourian staff received a letter from Howell. In part it read:

Gentlemen:

Do you have an up-to-date mailing list I can get from you. — Hash Slinger's Union or any other?

Notify me of any other place I need to let them know of address change.

Thanks,

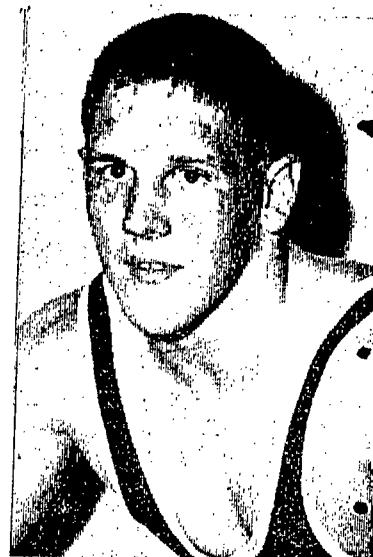

A. J. Howell

Howell's address is A. J. Howell, Apt. 706, Lucerne Towers, No. 20 Lucerne Circle, Orlando, Fla. 32801. He is interested in hearing from others who were members of the Hash Slingers' Union.

'Cat Trio Places High In NCAA Competition

Heavyweight Al Borkowski paced the MSC wrestling trio to 15th place in the NCAA College Division tournament held March 8 and 9 at Mankato, Minn., State College.

Borkowski, whose only defeat was an 8-2 decision to the eventual champion, Kent Osboe, Northern Iowa University, gave the top Bearcat performance with a third place finish. Borkowski opened with a 10-2 win over Greg Barnett, California Polytechnic, then suffered his loss to Osboe in the second round.

Paul Stehman

fourth in last year's national competition.

Bill Rex, 145, suffered a 6-0 loss to Northern Iowa's Jerry Bond in the quarter-finals after

Al Borkowski

In the wrestlebacks, Borkowski ousted Ray Millard of Idaho State University, 7-6, and Fred Beilfuss of Illinois State University, 4-3, in overtime. The MSC heavyweight's third place triumph was a 3-2 decision over Rich Beard of Northeast Missouri.

Paul Stehman, 137, who won four of six matches, earned his fifth place by defeating Tom Baker, Colorado Mines, 3-2, in the finals. Stehman finished er winning his first two bouts. Rex started by pinning Dennis Verzera of Wilkes College in 2:36 and outpointing Central Michigan's Jerry Cassell 2-1 in the second round.

Bond, who defeated Rex in the third bout, was later defeated. His loss denied Rex the opportunity to wrestle back into contention.

Gary Collins, Bearcat mat coach, reported that Borkowski will enter the NCAA University Division at Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa., this weekend. The Audubon, Iowa, senior will take a 22-3 record, including 12 pins, to the University Division tournament.

Bowling Leagues Continue Season

Union Director Bob Dickey has announced that interested students should sign up now for bowling leagues soon to be organized.

Top teams in the Faculty League are the Inflation Five with a record of 11-5 and the Hammers also with a win-loss total of 11-5. Myers of the Hammers leads the league with a 159 average. He is followed closely by Gleason of the Perigees with a 157.

The Student League is led by the Commandos with a record of 32-12. In second place are the MF's holding a 29-15 record.

Senior Contributes to MSC Sports

Robert Nelson, the only graduating Bearcat cager, has attended MSC for three years and played varsity basketball for two years.

A 1963 graduate of William Chrisman High School, Independence, Nelson transferred here after completing his contributed greatly to our team in the last two years, and has always had a desire to compete vigorously," Coach Dick Buckridge commented.

Nelson, a physical education major, plans to teach two years, hopefully in Iowa, then would like to go into the field of commercial flying.

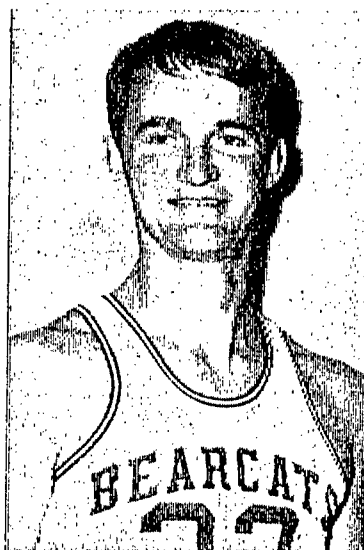

In his two years of varsity basketball, Nelson led the team in individual scoring. The 185 pound, 6-2 guard has totaled 429 points in the two years he has played for MSC, which figures to a 10.9 point average per game.

Nelson, who served as team captain for a majority of the basketball games this season, was in the hospital for two days during the '67 Christmas recess.

"This, I feel," reported Coach Buckridge, "hampered him from coming back strongly afterwards."

Coach Buckridge used Nelson this season to help mold the 'Cats into a well-disciplined unit since he had more experience than his teammates. Nelson garnered 79 field goals, 43 free throws, and 47 rebounds in overall team action this season.

Nelson is also active in baseball.

Bob Nelson

freshman year at Florida State University, where he played freshman basketball. His transfer prevented any varsity action his first year here. "Bob is a fine athlete, has
